TO THE PUBLIC.

In the year 1846, the writer of this article embarked in the Drug business in the City of Philadelphia, where he has been engaged now over sixteen years in the manufacture of Pharmaceutical Preparations of various descriptions. But for the last ten years, most of his time, has been employed in the manufacture of the various Solid and Fluid Extracts.

Most prominent among those to which he desires to call the particular attention of the Faculty, Druggists and the Public, are the Highly Concentrated Fluid Extract Buchu, and Highly Concentrated Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla.

Both of these are prepared on purely scientific principles, (in vacuo,) and embody the full strength of the various ingredients entering into their composition. These medicines require considerable care in the preparation, and the employment of different menstrua in successive operations to take up the extract matters, and, in consequence, are most frequently improperly made, and not unfrequently much impaired, if not rendered totally inert, by the injudicious and unskillful management of those unacquainted with pharmaceutical preparations.

My EXTRACT BUCHU, upon inspection, will be found to be of the color, color and taste of the plant of that name, and not a dark, glutinous preparation. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of its properties with those set forth in the United States Dispensatory.

The EXTRACT SARSPARILLA is far superior to any preparation that has ever come to my notice as a blood purifying agent. A tablespoonful of the Extract Sarsparilla added to a pint of water, is fully equal to the celebrated Lisbon Diet Drink, so much used by enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes and all ages.

One bottle is fully equal in strength to one gallon of the syrup or decoction as usually made, and hundreds of druggists throughout the country have adopted it in making their syrups of this name.

I desire in this connection to make a plain statement of facts, being prompted to do so:

First—By a consideration of the welfare of suffering humanity.

Second—Because I do not wish my articles classified as nostrums or patent medicines, many of which are made by persons too ignorant to read a physician's simplest prescription, much less to manufacture pharmaceutical preparations.

These persons advertise. This I am compelled to do, to bring my name before the public, conscientiously believing that I have the most valuable articles that were ever advertised. They have been advertised over ten years, commencing in a small way, and have not only sustained their reputation, but their popularity has extended to all parts of the United States, and widely throughout foreign countries.

As before remarked, I, in common with the manufacturers of Patent Medicines, advertise my Medicines. But how short-lived have been the thousands of these articles! And yet there are many persons who will continue to think that merit in the article is not essential to success.

My course in many particulars has been quite different from that of any others. With over 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters from all sections, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c., I have not been in the habit of resorting to their publication in the newspapers. I do not do this, for the reason that, as my articles rank as standard remedies, they do not need to be propped up by certificates. I may, however, without too much deviation from my plan, present here a specimen—one selected by chance from the great number at hand. Read the following certificate of a cure of over twenty years' standing:

LEWISTON, Penn., Jan. 14, 1857.

H. T. Helmbold:

DEAR SIR: I have been troubled with an affection of the Bladder and Kidneys for over twenty years. I had tried physicians in vain, and at last concluded to give your genuine Preparation a trial, as I had heard it so highly spoken of. I have used three bottles, and have obtained more relief from its effects, and feel much better than I have for twenty years previous.

I have the great-st faith in its virtues and curative powers, and shall do all in my power to make it known to the afflicted. Hoping this may prove advantageous to you in assisting you to introduce the medicine,

I am truly yours,
M. C McCORMICK,
LEWISTON, Pa., Aug. 2s, 1857.

H. T. Helmbold, Esq.:

I am happy to inform you that, after the use of your Medicine, a cure has been effected, and I candidly believe I should have been in my grave had it not been for it.

Your obedient servant, M. C. McCORMICK.

This gentleman offers the following references attesting the facts of this case:

Hon. WM. BIGLER, Ex-Governor Pennsylvania.
Hon. THOS B. FLORENCE, Philadelphia.
Hon. J. C. KNOX, Attorney-General, Harrisburgh, Penn.
Hon. J. S. BLACK, United States Attorney-General, Washington.
Hon. D. R. PORTER, Ex-Governor Pennsylvania.
Hon. R. C. GRIER, Judge United States Court.
Hon. JOHN BIGLER, Ex-Governor California.

Of the whole number treated, as shown by our certificates, 3,720 were treated for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings. The average amount of Medicine consumed, as per certificates, was seven bottles; the average term of suffering, one year and one month. Of this number 380 were females, 227 children, and the balance males.

10,121 were treated for diseases arising from excesses:—Habits of Dissipation, youthful imprudence attended with various symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Weak Nerves, Dimness of Vision, Night Sweats, Pallid Countenance, great Mobility, Restlessness, Horror of Society, no Earnestness of Manner. These symptoms, if allowed to continue, would undoubtedly result in Epileptic Fits, Insanity or Consumption. How many thousands of the young have died of these causes! Visit our Alms Houses, Hospitals, and Prisons, and see the misery they produce! Out of these 10,121 there were 8,621 males, 3,750 females. The sex of the remaining number were not stated in letters. The average time of suffering was 4½ years, average age, 34 years, average amount of medicine consumed, 10½ bottles. In respect to ailments peculiar to woman in decline or change of life, this will be found invaluable. No family should be without it.

7,200 were treated for Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Tetter, Pimples on the Face, and all Scaly Eruptions of the Skin.

8,971 were treated for diseases of the blood arising from habits of dissipation. Of this number 2,247 were treated for Syphilis, 944 for Humors in the blood, 1,333 for Diseases of a Secret nature, in all their stages. In this class of complaints patients do not readily volunteer certificates, which accounts for the small number received. Of this number, 4,219 were males, 2,200 were females; average age, 26 years 2 months; average term of suffering, 3 months; average amount consumed, 9 bottles.

The above statistics are taken from a diary kept expressly for the purpose, and with great care.

The proprietor in making this statement, hopes that his motive may be appreciated. A feeling that entire candor is due to all, has prompted him to do so. I am well aware that many persons consider $5 or $10 expended in any kind of medicine for the benefit of their health a waste of money, and yet these same persons will expend hundreds of dollars in time and dissipation, and think nothing of it. Such forget

That good health
Is true wealth.

Let us look at this matter for a moment. There are Astringents, Purgatives, Narcotics, Poisons, Diuretics, Blood Purifiers, &c. There is no contradicting the following facts:

A poison for one is a poison for all.
A narcotic for one is a narcotic for all.
A diuretic for one is a diuretic for all.
A purgative for one is a purgative for all.
A blood purifier for one is a blood purifier for all.

With this difference only, that some constitutions require more than others.

My EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA will answer in all cases, and will accomplish as much as any other purifier. I will gladly pay $5,000 for a better article.

The EXTRACT BUCHU is a diuretic, and will act as such, accomplishing as much as any other. I will gladly pay $5,000 for a better article. Both are vegetable preparations, pleasant in taste and odor, and safe, and are taken by men, women and children. Explicit directions accompanying the medicine.

To the suffering I would say, in conclusion, that I have had much to contend with, the objects being chiefly of this description. The expense of preparing my articles is such that I could not afford to commission them as Patent Medicine Manufacturers do, but have been compelled to sell for cash.

Consequently, I have lost much by unprincipled dealers endeavoring to dispose of their own or other articles on the reputation of mine. The merit of my Preparations has, however, quickly pushed them into favor; but you still need to exercise care to obtain my true Preparations.

THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Continued Demonstrations of the Rebels in Our Front.

Another Brisk Skirmish at Bealton Station.

Activity and Boldness of Guerrillas and Bushwhackers.

THE RECONSTRUCTION OF THE RAILROAD.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Oct. 27.

E. A. PAUL sends the following to this Bureau:

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Tuesday, Oct. 27.

The enemy continues to be demonstrative in our front. Yesterday, as the Sixth and Ninth New-York cavalry were going out near Bealton Station, to relieve the Fourth New-York and a Pennsylvania cavalry regiment on picket, they were opened upon by the rebels with artillery. A brisk skirmish ensued, lasting several hours, our forces falling back within one mile of Germantown, upon our infantry line. The enemy showed nothing but infantry. There were few casualties on either side.

Guerrillas and bushwhackers are exceedingly bold and their operations extend in every direction. Every day they make some demonstration on our line of communication, and it is even unsafe for our men to venture out of sight of camp. On Sunday evening a gang of bushwhackers dashed upon one of our trains between Warrenton and New-Baltimore and captured an ambulance and wagon belonging to the Provost-Marshal's Department.

From other sources we learn that the smoke of the enemy's camp fires can be seen beyond the Rappahannock, indicating that they are there in force, prepared to dispute the passage of the river or the construction of the railroad bridge. A body of their infantry has been discovered this side of the river at Sulphur Springs. Their cavalry pickets are thrown out this side of the Rappahannock, and are in sight of our advance pickets. There are no indications of any immediate advance movement.

Work on the railroad is being prosecuted vigorously, the advance of the army being dependent upon its completion.

Gen. MEADE'S headquarters are still at Warrenton.

DISPATCH TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Oct. 27.

Heavy cannonading was heard at Gainesville, to-day, for more than two hours up to noon, in the direction of Bealeton, which is five miles from Rappahannock Station.

At 7 o'clock, this morning, the Second Army Corps started out on a reconnoissance in that neighborhood, where they may have encountered the enemy.

Last night, between 8 and 0 o'clock, ten or twelve teams belonging to the reserved artillery were captured by some 150 guerillas when two miles from Warrenton, whither they were proceeding. When first hailed, the guerrillas represented themselves as attached to the Thirteenth Pennsylvania cavalry. But they soon after ordered the teams to halt, and stole the mules, a third of which were subsequently recaptured.

This afternoon about 4 o'clock another band of rebels came within half a miles of Burke's Station, 14 miles from Alexandria, and capture 25 or 30 mules, used for hauling wood, together with a wagon-master and several negroes. They ordered the wagon-master to take them to where the guard were, but one of the negroes made his escape, hurried to the guard and informed them of their danger, and they prepared to give the foe a warm reception.

The guerillas, evidently supposing that they would make an easy conquest, as they had been informed by the wagon-master that the guard numbered only six men, when in fact there were thirty, approached with boldness; but were suddenly driven off by a volley of musketry. Most of these guerillas were armed with pistols. There were only a few carbines among them.

Fearful Railroad Catastrophe—A Train Runs Off the Track on the Manassas Gap Railroad—Twenty-five Soldiers Injured—Fifty Horses Killed.

From Our Own Correspondent.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Saturday, Oct. 24, 1863.

A railroad accident—an unusual occurrence in this section—took place last night on the Manassas Gap Railroad, resulting in the maiming of twenty-five soldiers, several of whom have since died, and the killing of fifty horses or more. The train left Gainesville at about 11 o'clock P. M., and consisted of seventeen cattle cars, loaded with condemned horses belonging to Gen. KILPATRICK'S cavalry division, under the charge of Capt. DOWLING, of the Second New-York cavalry, Lieut. WHITTEMORE, of the Fifth New-York, aid to Gen. DAVIS, Lieut. SAFFORD, Fifth Michigan, and Lieut. MCDONALD, First Virginia, accompanied by 125 troopers from the several regiments, as a guard. There being no turn switch at Gainesville, locomotives are necessarily run backward to Manassas Junction—a fact no doubt largely contributing to the disaster. The night was very dark, but notwithstanding this the train moved off at great speed, until a curve about five miles distant was reached, when the track ties, being rotten, gave way under the pressure, causing the locomotive to run from the track, dragging with it for several rods eight of the 17 cars, and precipitating them down a steep embankment, a mass of ruins. The soldiers were riding on the top of the cars, and the severe shock and jarring motion caused by the wheels passing over the ties shook them off helter skelter upon the ground. A number of the cars rolling over, some fifty of the men were buried beneath the ruins, and the great wonder is that all were not instantly killed or mortally wounded. Fortunately, considering the circumstance, only five or six were very dangerously injured. The scene, as described by parties on the train who escaped uninjured, was most appalling. The darkness of the night, the rain, the frantic horses endeavoring to extricate themselves, many fairly kicking their way out of the rubbish, and the groans and screeches of the men, crushed under the overturned cars, some calling for help and others praying for death to come that they might be relieved from their torments, all combined, made up a scene of horror not soon to be forgotten. Capt. DOWLING, who escaped uninjured, immediately started on foot, his horse having been killed, for Gainesville for assistance. Dr. HACKLEY, surgeon-in-chief of the Third cavalry division, accompanied by Dr. CAPEHART, chief of First brigade, Dr. KISSICOW, Second New-York, Lieut. HICKEY, ambulance officer, and a corps of hospital attendants and orderlies, promptly repaired to the spot rendering prompt and much needed aid. The cars off the track were nearly all in ruins, but many of the horses were confined under the débris, and horses, cars and men, laid in one confused mass, and it was not until nearly daylight that all of the men could be rescued from their perilous position.

Twenty-five soldiers and one officer were more or less injured, and of the 125 horses on the train, 50 were either killed instantly or were so injured as to render the shooting of them a necessity. The train was materially damaged by the accident, causing a delay of trains for half a day or more. To the rapid speed at which the train was running, and the rotten ties, this accident is attributed.

Annexed is an official list of the injured, as furnished by Dr. HACKLEY, all of whom are in the Post Hospital at Gainesville.

An axe, borrowed from a citizen residing near the scene of the accident, was used in extricating the men, and, unfortunately, got broken. This morning the owner made a terrible ado about his axe, and was anxiously endeavoring to ascertain who would pay him for it. There are some mean people even in the land of "Tschivalry."

The Movements of Gen. Lee's Army.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Oct. 27.

The Star of this city says:

"No information has been received here indicating that the two hostile armies upon the Rappahannock have come into collision again—that is, since Saturday last.

It turns out that the importance of the cavalry fight on that day, on this side of the river, has been greatly magnified.

It is the belief of nearly all military men here that no considerable portion of Gen. LEE'S army have recrossed into Fauquier County, as alleged; and his act of laying pontoons across the river in the vicinity of Rappahannock Station, was intended to facilitate the retreat, when pressed, of the portion of his cavalry, and the inconsiderable supporting infantry he threw north of the stream to support his cavalry."

REGULAR REPRESENTATIVE DEMOCRACY.

The Nucleus of a Regenerated Democratic Party—No Close Corporation—Tammany and Mozart Denounced.

A mass meeting of the "Regular Representative Democracy," as it was named in the call, as opposed to the "close corporations" of Tammany and Mozart, was held at Cooper Institute last evening. Although the announcement that JAMES T. BRADY and JOHN VAN BUREN would speak—which is always a sufficient inducement to crowd any Hall where they appear—was not verified, yet there was a very respectable attendance at the hour named.

WM. B. RANKEN, Esq., called the meeting to order. No party, he said, should be started in a community without having a groundwork to stand on. For many years the great lion-hearted Democracy of this City had been at sea, without a head. Their nominations, year after year, had been made, the people having no voice in them. Through the trickery of "primaries" and Inspectors the people were cheated, and the offices either monopolized by the leaders of the "ring" or sold at auction to the highest bidder. The object of this meeting was to disenthral the people from this corrupt rule of close corporations, and to give them an opportunity to express themselves as free and independent voters.

He nominated for Chairman Judge MAYNARD, who, coming forward, said he felt proud of being called upon to preside over a meeting of men who knew their rights, and, knowing them, dare maintain them.

Gen. COCHRANE was introduced and met with a warm welcome. He said the party they now met to organize, was based on the great principle of Representative Democracy. This was a true primary meeting, and he asked them as Democrats to declare whether the men who usurped leadership truly represented the people? No. And he rejoiced to see, by all the indications of the times, that the Democracy of New-York was becoming disenthralled, free and emancipated, from the bondage of close, political organization; it had resolved to throw overboard the "ring," which, born in the purlieus of the City Hall, encircling but a small space originally, had increased until it clasped within its embrace Aldermen and Councilmen, "with fat capons lined," Register, street-contractors, street-sweeping machines, and all the paraphernalia of money-making. These men had looked upon the world as their oyster, which they would open with their knife, and that knife was the Democracy of New-York. Their principle—or rather their policy, for principle they had none—was give and take; cash down to-day and an office to-morrow. He went on to expose and denounce the base manner in which the leaders of Tammany and Mozart trafficked in spoils and places. And not only this—but in their political action there was a want of stability and principle which, if they were to be consulted as leaders, would bring to destruction any cause represented by them. As an illustration, he called upon his audience to remember how, on the spontaneous outburst of the popular heart when Sumter was attacked, Tammany had passed resolutions, voted for Senator NELSON J. WATERBURY, BOOLE, and others, endorsing the war as wisely waged; and directing that a banner inscribed with the glorious legend—"The Union—it must and shall be preserved," should be prepared and hung from Tammany until the rebellion was crushed. Where was that banner now? It had given place to one bearing the name of JOHN H. MCCUNN. [Groans.] Thus recreant had these self-styled "leaders" become to the people whom they claimed to represent. He asked where had Tammany, by resolution or otherwise, denounced the blow aimed at the "Monroe doctrine"—so dear to every American citizen—by the intervention of France and England on this Continent. No, the gentlemen of the Ring were too deeply absorbed with the spoils of office; and, like honest Pestol, were too busy putting money in their purse to attend to the affairs of the nation. Gen. COCHRANE, in passing from a consideration of the principles which this organization held, to the men who represented these principles, spoken in eulogistic terms of Major-Gen. JOHN A. DIX as the foremost figure in the great universal Democratic party; and suggested that, retiring and modest as he was, he should—a second CINCINNATUS—be lifted from his retreat on freemen's shoulders, to lead the people. [Thunders of applause greeted the name of Gen. DIX.] In conclusion he said: Down with the halls—up with the ring! Let the people know their rights, and knowing, maintain them. Vote for whom you please—but vote for men who represent the people and their cause—who represent the war and the Union. [Cheers At the conclusion of Gen. COCHRAN'S address, there were loud cries for "BRADY," and the Chairman, coming forward, said Mr. BRADY had not yet arrived, but in his place he would introduce Hon. LEVI S. CHATFIELD. Mr. CHATFIELD said he claimed to be a plain, practical man, and in all his political actions he desired to see the object of an organization before joining it. He had listened to-night and had heard nothing but complaints against Mozart and Tammany. There was no platform of principles for themselves. Now, he was as much opposed as any one to the leading principles of those close corporations. He regretted that this organization had not come into the field earlier. If it had, it might have nominated it candidates, and be the Democratic party. As it was, this was but a nucleus—but a beginning. If they desired to be disenthralled from the bondage of close corporations they would have to begin by Ward meetings.

This called up Mr. RANKEN, who said that as his friend labored under a misapprehension as to the action of the committee, it was best he should state the object of the organization. He then described a plan, which he said would be published more fully soon, to secure greater fairness in primary elections, and a fuller and truer representation of the people—free from the control of "managers," and undeterred by shoulder-hitters.

Mr. ALEXANDER H. REANY next spoke.

Resolutions were passed, declaring that whereas the Democratic party of the City of New-York have been held under coercion of the most despotic character by a few bold men, enabling a few political wire-pullers to hunter the nominations of the Democratic party in the open market, &c. That the regular representative Democratic party proclaim their hostility to all close-borough corporations; and that it is imperative that every elector shall have a voice at the primary elections.

Another Speech by Major-Gen. Rosecrans.

CINCINNATI, Tuesday, Oct. 27.

Gen. ROSECRANS, in a speech at the Merchants' Exchange yesterday, where he was most enthusiastically received, said, it was his firm belief that if the forces recently sent to Chattanooga had been ordered there before, as they ought to have been, the backbone of the rebellion ere this would have been broken.

THE ARMY OF THE CUMBERLAND

ALL QUIET AT CHATTANOOGA.

Attempt to Destroy a Railroad Train with a Torpedo.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Tuesday, Oct. 27.

I left Chattanooga four days ago. At that time nothing of exceeding importance as regards field operations was transpiring at that point. Our officers and the enemy communicated almost every day via the picket lines. Reports reaching us through rebel couriers represented the Union movements at several points in a favorable light.

When I left Bridgeport, Alabama, reports came in in that the rebel General, WHEELER, was again about to threaten our lines of railroad communication between here and Bridgeport. Later reports seem to confirm this.

It is evident there is a force of rebels attempting to interrupt our railroad line of communication with the front. A short time since a train was thrown from the track in consequence of the displacement of new rails, by which several persons were injured—some seriously.

About 12 o'clock last night a very unusual affair occurred. It seems a torpedo was sunk in the ground at a point three miles this side of Tantalon. Several freight and passenger cars, well loaded, passed over the torpedo. As the locomotive which had been acting as pusher up the mountain was going back, the torpedo exploded under it, throwing the tender off the track, tearing it almost to pieces. Fortunately no one was seriously injured. During this afternoon this same train was thrown off the track between here and Lavergne. Many of the passengers jumped out of the car windows and off the top of the cars, but no one, very fortunately, sustained injuries that will lay them up.

Two days ago three regiments from Gen. SCHURZ'S division, of the Eleventh army corps, were sent out on an expedition by direction of Maj.-Gen. HOWARD. They were eminently successful, took some prisoners, gained important military information, and captured three cars and locomotive.

Do not think our forces are inactive at the front. Although the roads are very bad you will hear favorable news before long.

We took one prisoner, who, it was evident, was engaged in throwing the cars from the track. The passengers wanted to hang him on the spot. The prisoner is now in Nashville.

The Fight Near Philadelphia—Gen. Woolford Recaptures His Wagon Train, and Loses His Battery—Subsequent Repulse of the Rebels—The People in Virginia and North Carolina Rising.

CINCINNATI, Monday, Oct. 26.

A Knoxville dispatch, dated the 25th instant, to the Gazette, says:

"The engagement to-day was a hand-to-hand affair, lasting over four hours.

The rebel force is estimated at 5,000. They lost in killed, wounded and prisoners over 300.

Gen. WALFORD recaptured his wagon train, but lost his battery.

Our loss is nearly 300.

Gen. SANDERS advanced yesterday and drove the rebels below Philadelphia. A running fight was kept up until dark.

Col. CRAWFORD has returned from his expedition to distribute arms through Virginia and North Carolina, and to receive recruits. He was perfectly successful in both States. The people are rising everywhere against the rebels.

Parson BROWNLOW and Representative MAYNARD, were addressing the people of East Tennessee. At Knoxville they spoke to 20,000 people, and were received with enthusiasm.

THE WAR IN MISSISSIPPI.

Movements of Gen. Sherman's Column—The Fight Beyond Corinth—The Rebels Driven Back with Heavy Loss.

CAIRO, Ill., Monday, Oct. 26.

The Memphis Bulletin, of the 24th instant, says:

On the 21st the advance of the Union forces eastward from Corinth met with resistance near Cherokee Station, eighty-nine miles from Tuscumbia.]

Gen. OSTERHAUS was in the advance and had not moved far when he encountered two brigades of rebel cavalry, under Gens. LEE and FORREST, estimated at 4,000 to 6,000 men.

The fight lasted an hour when the rebels were driven back with severe loss.

Our loss was seven killed and thirty-seven wounded, most of which was caused by mistaking LEE'S cavalry, who were dressed in blue overcoats, for our own forces.

The rebels are said to have very strong fortifications this side of Tuscumbia, on the railroad.

Rebel prisoners report that the enemy expect to make a stout resistance there. They say they had 4,000 men there on Thursday, and received reinforcements of 1,000 cavalry on Wednesday, and that 2,000 more were expected from Gen. BRAGG'S forces.

The steamer Mist, bound from Helena to Memphis, while making a landing on the Mississippi side of the river, fifteen miles above Helena, on the 21st inst., was boarded by ten or fifteen guerrillas, who robbed the boat of $20,000 and other valuables, and then set the boat on fire, which was consumed, with a number of bales of cotton. One of the parties was shot, and three others were captured in the vicinity the next day. The boat was owned in Paducah, and cost $40,000.

The new trade regulations went into effect at Memphis to-day.

Reports from New-Orleans show receipts of nearly 4,000 bales of cotton in one day.

CHICAGO, Tuesday, Oct. 27.

The demonstration to celebrate the formal opening of the Northwestern Fair for the benefit of the Sanitary Commission was magnificent.

The procession was fully three miles long, and was composed of the military, fire department and benevolent societies.

The streets through which the procession passed were crowded with people.

The Post-office and Government offices were closed in honor of the occasion, and business of all kinds was generally suspended.

The indications are that the fair will be a great success.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER delivered his promised lecture on "America" at the Philharmonic Hall, Liverpool, on the 16th inst. He had a densely crowded audience, and fears at one time were entertained of a riot, Southern sympathizers having placarded the town with bills calculated to inflame the public mind against him. There were large numbers of Secessionists at the meeting, and they did all they could to get up a row and interrupted Mr. BEECHER at almost every step. They were, however, in a great minority, and on the whole Mr. BEECHER'S reception from first to last was enthusiastic. He was frequently interrupted by disgraceful outcries, but he showed great calmness and tact, and could not be put down by the clamor raised against him.

Mr. BEECHER showed by favorable arguments how much England was interested in the triumph of the North. He asserted that Slavery was the root and branch of the American trouble, and maintained that the North fought for the Union because it believed that the Union would ultimately secure the emancipation of the slaves of the South.

Mr. BEECHER believed that under the influence of Earl RUSSELL'S speech at Blair-Gowrie and the seizure of the suspected rams in the Mersey, the hostility of the North toward England would disappear.

Mr. BEECHER concludod by pointing out that in view of the threatening aspect of affairs throughout the world, kindred nations—like England and America—should not be estranged, for united they would be a match for the world.

A vote of thanks to Mr. BEECHER was carried with great cheering, but not unmixed with hisses and groans.

On the same day an address was delivered before the Liverpool Southern Club by Mr. BERESFORD HOPE, who reiterated his oft-expressed ultra views in favor of the South.

The Club afterwards entertained Mr. HOPE at a banquet, where Southern sentiments were of course the order of the day.

Sir ROUNDELL PALMER, Solicitor-General, had been addressing his constituents at considerable length on American affairs. He showed that England could not recognize the South until her independence was fully settled. He contended that England was bound to extend belligerent rights to the Confederates, and strongly demonstrated the obligation resting upon England for continued neutrality.

The London Times, in an editorial on that part of Sir R. PALMER'S speech which shows that there is no doubt about the spirit and design of the laws respecting the iron-clads seized in the Mersey, says:

"The Ministers have not been doubting whether these steamers were designed for the same service as the Alabama, nor whether they could be lawfully dispatched, but whether their suspected destination can be conclusively proved against them. The intent of the law is, however, to make the case perfectly clear. Few will be found to deny that there is suspicion enough to justify the resolution on the part of the Government to reserve the case for trial. The doubts that arise are principally from the difficulty of obtaining conclusive evidence, the case admitting of infinite evasions. The Solicitor-General tells us that the Americans have done as much for others as they are now expecting will be done for them; that they never showed unwillingness to act when urged; but that they found difficulties in the way of such proceedings."

The Times says, in conclusion:

"If this is the state of the law, it is unsatisfactory in the extreme; and as both countries have found the utmost difficulty in bringing the law to bear, the sooner the machinery is improved the better."

INDIA AND NEW-ZEALAND.

The troubles in India and the outbreaks and war in New-Zealand had attracted considerable attention.

It is stated that the Punjaub had been invaded by 7,000 men, headed by the sons of Dost MOHAMMED, who are thought to be merely the vanguard of a large force. British troops have been sent against them, and other precautions taken to insure their overthrow.

The war in New-Zealand is termed "A War of Races." Energetic measures were being taken by the troops and white colonists for a decisive victory over the natives.

All the British troops in Australia have gone over to New-Zealand, and volunteers would follow, to put the native insurrectionists down.

FRANCE.

The Emperor, LOUIS NAPOLEON, would receive the Mexican Deputation on the 17th inst.

There were some doubts as to whether M. ROUHER or M. BAROCHE would succeed M. BILLAULT as Minister of State.

The Paris Bourse was dull, but without any material fluctuations.

POLAND.

Russia had commenced detaching certain parts of Poland from Poland.

A Russian Imperial decree detaches the Government of Augustow and the District of Lorenza from Poland, and incorporates them in the Russian Empire.

It is reported that the Poles have offered an offensive and defensive alliance to Turkey, to reconquer all that has been lost of the Ottoman Empire.

It is also said that Russia has notified the Porte that any recognition of the Poles as belligerents will be looked upon as a declaration of war.

The English Cabinet have postponed their decision in regard to the demand of the Poles to be considered belligerents.

DENMARK.

The Danish Government have ordered a large body of troops to be massed on the Southern frontier of Schleswig.

ARRIVAL OF THE NEW-YORK.

The steamship New-York, from Southampton, Oct. 15, arrived last evening. Her mails are one day later than those received by the Etna, but the news has been mainly anticipated.

The cargo of the Lucknow, from New-York for Antwerp with petroleum, beached on the night of Tuesday the 13th at Dungineas, to save life, was being landed on the beach. It was feared the vessel would be a wreck.

THE RUSSO-AMERICAN ALLIANCE.

From the London Times, Oct. 15.

Whoever recommended the Russian Emperor to send a squadron of frigates to New-York, may congratulate himself on a great success. Now that it is done we see that it was exactly the thing to do, and almost wonder that it never occurred before to the astute politicians of St. Petersburg. The resemblances between the United States and the Russian Empire have not only been remarked by every one who has thought on the present and probable future state of the world, but they have created a sympathy between the two Powers which is becoming stronger under the influence of calamity, disappointed ambition, and the rebukes of the civilized world. Both in their arrogance and petulance of a few years since and in their present tone of more limited pretensions, the Americans and Russians have shown an accord which indicates the gravitation of the two Powers to a permanent alliance. In the palmy days when NICHOLAS affected to be the arbiter of the Old World, and the American Presidents were conquering provinces in the New, the constant theme of congratulation between the Republic and the Despotism was the decadence of all Powers but themselves, and the certainty that they would subject all the countries about them, one after the other, to their dominion. They both had enormous territory, and regions still more immense, which they could make their own when they would. They were both new Powers, unincumbered with the debts, the traditions and the inferior social organization of their older rivals. They had a manifest destiny, and were to fulfill the designs of Providence by plundering and subjugating all who were not strong enough to resist. And who should resist fifty years hence, when the populations of the two aggressive empires should have doubled and tripled in a fashion impossible to the crowded inhabitants of Western Europe? From these dreams Russia was roused by a war which showed how unable she was to face the Western Powers, which forced her to dismantle a fortress and cede a portion of her territory, and which, if it had continued another year, would certainly have deprived her of valuable provinces. The pride of the United States has still more lately met its fall. The disruption of the Republic, the proof that a large part of the people had ceased to care for the Union—nay, had imbibed a strong hatred against the rest of their countrymen—the gloomy prospect of lingering warfare, to be ended at the very best only by the extirpation of the Southerners and the ruin of their country,—these things are weighing on the spirits of the Federal patriots, whose Fourth of July orations used once to paint such a transcendent future.

In the hour of common trial the Czar gives his officers an opportunity of showing his Republican allies how much they sympathize with each other, and resent the ill-will of England and France. Not that the discreet and guarded Muscovites would ever hint that their visit had a political object, or that they had anything but respect and esteem for Englishmen, Frenchmen, and all mankind. The coarser part of the speech-making is left to the New-York orators, just as the interpretation of the squadron's visit, as the sign of speedy alliance between the two countries for the punishment of European perfidy, is allowed to be given to the world by the American Press. But there can be little doubt that what has taken place is just what the Emperor foresaw and desired. At a time when he and his brother Potentate at Washington are carrying on a relentless war against so-called "rebels," and seek in some trepidation as to the policy of France, the Czar calls forth an exhibition of the mutual sympathy between their respective nations. The time could not have been better chosen, the success could not have been more complete. The Russian officers are the lions of the hour. They are invited everywhere; the British and French officers remain unnoticed on board their ships.

To what lengths the enthusiasm of the new alliance can lead a Federal audience is amusingly shown by the reported speech of Admiral LISOVSKI at a banquet given to himself and his officers. The health of the Emperor had been drunk with great applause, and the Admiral duly returned thanks. The praise which the American speaker lavished on His Majesty was, according to the Admiral, really deserved. "He is certainly not only the benefactor of his subjects," exclaimed the eloquent seaman, "he is the friend of mankind. (Cheers.) From what he has already done, from what he is doing every day, he is certainly entitled to the same surname which once a Roman Emperor claimed, 'The Delight of Mankind.'" When we recollect that these words were spoken to and cheered vociferously by a people who have for eighty years been preaching to the world self-government and the right of mankind to be free, we may see how little strength political principles possess compared with the impulses or fancied interests of the hour. The support of Russia is valuable, and therefore all the national traditions concerning nationality and popular rights are forgotten in a moment, and the servant of a despotic monarchy is applauded for saying that the Prince who is now ordering the massacres and confiscations in Warsaw, and whose rule has been officially denounced as a tyranny by the most conservative Powers in Europe, is the "Delight of Mankind." Indeed, the community of the two great Empires, made more sensible by the circumstance that both are engaged in "putting down rebels," seems to have been the idea present to every one's mind. It wanted but this bond to make perfect the union between the two nations. Each will bid defiance to the world, relying on its just right to destroy every population and devastate every province which dares to disarrange its plans of empire by any such words as "liberty" and "independence."

THE LATE M. BILLAULT.

The Temps, of Oct. 14, speaks in the following terms of the late M. BILLAULT:

"M. BILLAULT was successively President of the Corps Legislatif, Minister of the Interior several times, and Senator; but he did not play a really important part until the decree of the 24th of November, 1860. In the full possession of his means M. BILLAULT surpassed public expectation; he performed laborious and fatiguing task with sustained brilliancy, and it is only justice to attribute to him the greater part of whatever lustre was reflected by the institution, now abandoned, of the ministers without portfolio. After drinking several schoffens of Rhine wine, plaintiff got happy, sang a song, was noisy, and finally excited the ire of Peter by abusing his dog; whereupon defendant, in defence of his dog, made an assault upon plaintiff, throwing him to the ground with such violence as to break his leg. The defence denies the allegations of the complaint, and claim that defendant was only playing with plaintiff, and the injury was accidental.

—Whalemen's Shipping List.

The Oil City Register, noticing the movements in Oil at that place during the past week, says: "Low water prevents any material shipments. During the week we have had several heavy showers, which made the roads difficult to team on, but raised neither the river nor the creek. There seems to be a better feeling among producers, but we can hear of no material advance in prices. We hear of one sale of 1,000 bbls. on the Terr farm at $5 @ bbl. We therefore give as the quotation $5@$5 25 at the wells, and from $6 to $6 25 at this place, but would state that we have heard of some offering as low as $5 50 @ bbl. at this point, with no sales at that figure. The market closes a shade stiffer." The Pittsburgh Chronicle of yesterday says: "Buyers and sellers continue apart in their views. The rates in New-York are below the asking rates in this city. Of course, under this state of affairs, buyers will not operate until prices here decline. The rates given at present are altogether nominal, viz.: Crude, 23c.@28c., without and with the packages. The exports were: To New-York—Refined, 617 bbls.; Tar, 24 bbls.; Benzole, 141 bbls. To Philadelphia—Refined, 297 bbls.; Crude, 311 bbls.; Tar, 50 bbls. Imports: Per A. V. R. NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

Our correspondent at headquarters of the Army of the Potomac writes that the enemy continue demonstrations in our front. On Monday, the Sixth and Ninth New-York cavalry regiments were attacked by the rebels with artillery, near Bealton Station, as they were going to relieve other cavalry regiments on picket. A brisk engagement ensued, continuing several hours, and our forces were compelled to fall back upon our infantry line. There were few casualties on either side. The woods are infested with guerillas and robbers, who make it exceedingly hazardous for our men to stray beyond camp limits. Gen. Meade's headquarters are still at Warrenton, and the enemy's camp fires indicate that they are in force beyond the Rappahannock. The work of reconstructing the railroad, which the rebels destroyed, is being prosecuted vigorously.

We have information from the Army of the Cumberland as late as Friday last, when all was quiet at Chattanooga. Reports at Bridgeport, Ala., were to the effect that the rebels under Wheeler were about to renew the attempt to break the railroad communications between Nashville and Nasaw ville. On Monday night a force was made to destroy a train of cars with a torpedo, near Tullahoma, but no damage resulted beyond the destruction of the train. A portion of Gen. Schurz's division had returned from a successful reconnoissance without any loss, and beyond the dissolution of the enemy's lines.

A portion of Gen. Schurz's division had The Memphis Bulletin of the 24th inst. contains some particulars respecting the advance of the enemy's wings.

Gen. Sherman's column eastward from Corinth, Miss., and the engagement near Cherokee Station on the Tuscumbia Railroad, signalized the advance of Gen. Hurlbut's column eastward from Corinth, being in the van encountered two brigades of rebels, and the engagement near Cherokee Station resulted in the retreat of Gens. Lee and Forrest, posted on the right of the rebel line of battle. The rebels consisted at 4,000 to 6,000 men. At the end of an hour's fighting the enemy was driven back with rebel cavalry under Gens. Lee and Forrest, with severe loss. Our casualties were 5 killed and 31 wounded. The rebels are expected to make a stout resistance at Tuscumbia, where they are strongly fortified.

The fighting near Philadelphia, Tenn., the rebel stronghold at that point, where the army account of which we published yesterday, seems to have been renewed on the 20th inst. A Knoxville dispatch of that date says that a hard-fought engagement took place on that day, which continued in all the enemy lost 300 in killed. The dispatch of that date says that a hard-fought engagement took place on that day, which continued in all the enemy lost 300 in killed. Our loss, also, was severe. AGAIN NEW TESTIMONY,
READ.

HARLEM, July 20, 1863.

I have been deaf for over TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, and Dr. VON EISENBERG operated on both of my ears without the slightest pain—a thing that I could not believe could be done. I now hear well, and feel as I never felt for the last twenty years. The dexterity and skill with which the operation was performed evince the highest practical ability. I hear perfectly. It is now over a month since the operation, and I continue to feel as well as ever.

CATARRH CURED.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 23, 1863.

I have been suffering for the last three years from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery and very painful. My nostrils were continually obstructed with a pouring of fluid. I have had frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, generally attended with spitting, often with a fullness of my throat, together with a soreness and a dropping. Dr. VON EISENBERG has cured me of all these disagreeable sufferings. I now feel a new life. The treatment of Dr. VON EISENBERG is as skillful as it is successful; it is impossible to overrate the benefit I have received at his hands. I heartily recommend any one suffering like myself to place themselves under Dr. VON EISENBERG'S care, with a certainty of being speedily cured. I give this with great pleasure. I cannot forbear again saying that my voice, which was hoarse and thick when I applied to Dr. VON EISENBERG, is now clear and good; indeed, I feel abundantly satisfied.
JAMES LITTLE,
No. 245 7th-st., New-York.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 8.

I have been suffering for years past from a severe Catarrh, with a great heaviness over my eyes, with a severe depression, great uneasiness, and pain in my head, great difficulty in breathing, and a continual accumulation in my nostrils, which gave me restless nights for several years. I have consulted several physicians, who pronounced me to be consumptive. What I suffered for so long a time is indescribable. My system was entirely disarranged and greatly debilitated. I not only felt weak, but I had a cloud continually before my eyes, and my ears were so affected that I was threatened with a total loss of hearing. I must say, I think, I was guided by Providence to come to Dr Von Eisenberg, who not only cured me of my Catarrh by removing an astonishing quantity of disagreeable matter from my head, but he restored me to perfect health, a blessing I have not enjoyed for many years. Now I enjoy a good night's rest, and pursue my business with comfort. I must acknowledge that Dr. Von Eisenberg's mild and scientific treatment for Catarrh deserves the highest commendation, as the principle which directs his system of curing Catarrh is such as to render success certain.
JAMES FURLONG, No. 556 2d-av.

No. 134 ALLEN-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.
I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.
JOHN TAYLOR.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

SIGHT RESTORED.

JUNE 25, 1863.

My daughter brought me to Dr. Von Eisenberg almost completely blind in both eyes. I could not bear the pain nor the light. I am completely cured by Dr. Von Eisenberg, and called now to express my gratitude to the Doctor for his skill and unremitting attention, by which I recovered one of the most precious senses to me after being deprived of it for four years. It is only due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to state that I have tried several physicians in vain. I shall be happy to bear personal testimony to Dr. Von Eisenberg's unrivaled success to any lady or gentleman who will call on me.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ.

NEW-YORK, March 20, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

THE POPULAR TREATISE ON
ITS CAUSES AND PREVENTION.
BY
DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL.

One Small 12mo, with Illustrations. Price $1.

The very remarkable sale of this little volume is a sufficient guarantee of its popularity and value. Five editions have been sold within as many months, and a sixth is just ready.

The author's aim has been to produce a book
FOR THE PEOPLE,
not for the medical profession, but for afflicted individuals and families, who, wishing information upon the subject, have heretofore been at a loss for any work treating in unprofessional language upon Deafness and its attending evils. This book fills such a vacuum. It is clear and comprehensive,

The New-York Observer says: "There is a large amount of useful information here embodied for the million, to teach them how to guard against deafness, and and how to treat it when coming on."

The Boston Commercial Bulletin says: "An excellent and comprehensive little treatise, written in a clear and commonsense style, easily understood."

"The suggestions in relation to the every-day treatment of the ear are of the most valuable kind, and should be within the reach of every family."—Buffalo Courier.

The work should find its way into the hands of every individual suffering with deafness, or any accompanying affliction. Its value will be at once appreciated.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.

The first sensation is usually a feeling of dryness and heat in the nose, and a frequent inclination to sneezing. There is an inability to breathe freely, as the nose becomes stopped up, sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other.

Soon a clear, watery, acrid discharge makes its appearance, excoriating the nostrils and edges of the lips, which become red and somewhat swollen. After a few days the discharge becomes thick, yellowish, extremely frequent, and continues to be a marked feature of the disease, and a source of much danger and the greatest annoyance. After more or less time it becomes purulent, highly offensive, and assumes an extremely fetid odor. It is usually so profuse as to require, when confined to the nose, the frequent application of the handkerchief, or, if it drops into the throat, which is more particularly the case while the body is in a horizontal position, constant expectoration, and sometimes both.

Sleep is frequently disturbed by a sensation of choking, caused by the presence of the discharge in the throat. Owing to the heat in the head, the watery portion of the discharge often evaporates, and assuming a condition of solidity, is deposited upon the membrane of the nose and upper part of the throat, in the shape of crusts or hardened lumps. The accumulation of these incrustations produces a feeling of discomfort, and narrows the nasal passages so as to embarrass respiration. Therefore, frequent efforts have to be made to remove them, either by forcibly blowing the nose, or by persistent hawking—a practice as disagreeable to the one affected as it is to those around him. After the removal, that side of the incrustation which adhered to the mucous membrane will sometimes be found bloody—a fact which explains the force required for its dislodgment. During sleep these incrustations accumulate more rapidly, and the feeling is, therefore, most uncomfortable in the morning. Sometimes all efforts to clear the throat are futile until after breakfast or after something warm is swallowed. Some patients state that they are not successful until they have swallowed some whisky or brandy. The discharge, which is at first without smell, assumes in the progress of the complaint an excessively fetid odor, the breath participates in this, and becomes occasionally so revoltingly offensive as to render the patient an object of disgust to himself as well as to others. Ulceration of the mucous membrane of the nose takes place frequently, sometimes even attacking the bones, when small particles of that substance will occasionally be found mixed with the discharge. The accumulation of the discharge, together with the thickened condition of the mucous membrane, renders respiration through the nasal passages very difficult, and oftentimes impossible, necessitating respiration principally through the mouth—a method very deleterious to the general health, but more particularly so to the lungs, as will be shown hereafter. The unpleasant noise produced during sleep, known as snoring, originates from the same cause. The voice loses its musical quality, and assumes a discordant, harsh and nasal character; the sense of smell becomes much impaired or entirely lost, and the same effect, though less frequent, is produced on the sense of taste. Occasionally, while blowing the nose, a crackling or bubbling sound will be heard in the ear, and hearing will be found quite thick and stopped up, but returns suddenly with something like a snapping sound. This phenomenon is usually repeated until, at one time, hearing does not return, and remains permanently injured. Noises in the head of every conceivable description will make their appearance and add to the distress of the sufferer, and hearing may be lost so gradually that a considerable degree of deafness may exist before the person is really aware of the fact. The eyes are apt to become weak, irritable and disposed to water on exposure to cold and wind, or after the slightest exertion. A pain, more or less acute, or a distressing feeling of pressure, is experienced over the eyes, and sometimes on the top or back of the head, and also pain in the face, closely resembling neuralgia, for which it is very often mistaken. The distress in the head weakens the memory and produces irritability and moroseness of disposition. The stomach generally suffers more or less, is weak and irritable; the appetite is capricious, and is nearly always bad in the morning. In severe cases the system becomes feeble and prostrated, and there is an aversion or inability to either physical or mental exertion. Not unfrequently catarrh proves fatal, either by debilitating the system and wearing out the patient, or by traveling downward and producing throat affections, bronchitis, and finally consumption. It may be safely asserted that after hereditary predisposition, catarrh is the most frequent and important cause of this fatal complaint.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

SCRANTON COAL AT AUCTION.
OFFICE OF THE DELAWARE, LACKAWANNA AND WESTERN RAILROAD COMPANY,
No. 35 William-st., New-York, Oct. 15, 1863.
This Company will hold their ninth regular Monthly Auction on WEDNESDAY, the 28th day of October, 1863, at 12 o'clock noon, at the rooms now used as the Merchants' Exchange, Nos. 26 and 28 Exchange-place, corner of William-st., at which time they will offer, by SIMON DRAPER, Auctioneer,
TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND TONS OF FRESH MINED SCRANTON COAL, embracing all the usual sizes, and deliverable at their depot, Elizabethport, N. J., after the 1st of November next. They will report such cargoes on or about the 20th of each month during the year 1864.
The sale will be positive. Each lot put up will be sold to the highest bidder, no bids, in any form whatever, being made for account of or on behalf of the Company.
Fifty cents per ton, in bankable funds, to be paid at the time and place of sale, and the balance, in like funds, on receiving the order for which must be called for within ten days thereafter, and the coal taken away within thirty days from the day of sale, unless navigation is obstructed. Buyers who wish, however, can have an additional thirty days for taking the delivery of their purchases, by making a further deposit of fifty cents per ton, within the ten days above specified. Interest, at 7 per cent. per annum, will be charged on the balance, from the time stipulated for payment until paid, and twenty-five cents per ton to cover the expense of stocking the coal—both to be paid on delivery of order.
The other conditions of sale will be substantially those hitherto accepted by all purchasers, by private contract, of coal delivered at Elizabethport, so far as applicable. The coal will be delivered direct from the cars on their arrival from the mines, when practicable—otherwise from the stock. These conditions will be modified to meet the wants of ocean steamers, whose arrival cannot be definitely fixed.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by Dr. WARD & CO., No. 50 Lispenard-st. near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and expense than any one can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No 50 Lispenard-st., the only place. PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians in regard to some pitiful patient who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it, and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for 15 three-cent stamps, 260 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC—THE OPERA.
Director.....MAX MARETZEK
SECOND AND LAST SUBSCRIPTION FOR TWELVE NIGHTS.
NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC AND SEASON SUBSCRIBERS.

The Director respectfully calls attention to the fact that subscriptions for the first series of twelve Opera nights will expire on Friday, Oct. 30, 1863.

Within the first subscription term the following Operas, nine in number, have been presented at the Academy of Music, namely:

"Roberto Devereux," "Norma," "Rigoletto," "Ione," "La Traviata," "Ernani," "Macbeth," "Martha," and "Il Trovatore."

Taking into consideration certain adverse circumstances, such as the sudden illness of two principal artists, which at the outset of the season the management had to contend against, it is hoped that the public and regular patrons of the opera will concede that the programmes have been sufficiently varied. Indeed, in no other opera-house of rank is it usual for a manager to present a like number of operas during the short period of four weeks.

The Fall season will close with the ensuing series of twelve opera nights, as the artists, one and all, are under contract to appear in Philadelphia and Boston, and the New-York Academy of Music is engaged to the German Opera Company from the 1st of December to the 1st of February, 1864.

The regular Winter season of Italian Opera will begin, under the present management, during the first week in February, 1864.

In the course of the approaching subscription series of twelve nights, beside other operas of the regular repertoire, the grand tragic opera, will be revived in brilliant style, and with a cast of unexampled efficiency, including in the principal rôles the names of Madame Medori, Mlle. Sulzer, Signor Mazzoleni, and Signor Biachi, and in the important secondary parts Signor Bellini, Signor Lotti, Signor Tamaro, Signor Ippolito and Signor Colletti, who have kindly consented to appear on the occasion for the purpose of adding to the artistic ensemble of this favorite opera.
LUCREZIA BORGIA

That master work,
DON GIOVANNI,
is also to be brought out with a like powerful distribution of talent.

The new biblical opera,
JUDITH,
is ready for immediate representation; and GOUNOD'S
FAUST
is in active preparation and will be produced next month.

Subscribers are notified that their present seats will be retained for them from this day until Friday evening, Oct. 30. If not reengaged by that time for the Second Subscription Series of Operas, these seats will be placed at the disposal of the first new applicants.

BROOKLYN ACADEMY OF MUSIC—THE OPERA.
Director.....MAX MARETZEK
THIRD GRAND OPERA NIGHT.
ON THURSDAY EVENING, OCT. 29, AT 8, will be presented Flotow's charming opera of MARTHA,
with the same splendid cast which was received with such enthusiastic approbation at the New-York Academy, including
MISS CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG,
In her favorite rôle of Lady Henrietta,
MISS HENRIETTA SULZER,
SIG. LOTTI,
SIG. BIACHI,
Conductor.....MAX MARETZEK

The sale of secured seats and tickets will commence this morning in Brooklyn, at the Box Office of the Academy, and in New-York at Root & Anthony's, stationers, corner of Nassau and Pine sts.
